To Anne Warren Weston

[Rochester, N. Y.] The writer thanks the Boston Female Anti-Slavery Society for their invitation "to labor in Boston and vicinity for a few months." Enumerates reasons why he cannot accept; the writer is the only agent for the state of New York; his acquaintance in this state gives him advantages which he would lack in Massachusetts; he is pledged to labor in New York state during the present season; he is a "Backwoodsman untamed" whose "bearish proportions have never been licked into city shape." Recommends to the Boston Female Anti-Slavery Society two such societies of Ohio counties and one of Pittsburg, Pa. for "sisterly fellowship."

Foster, Abby (Kelley) 1811-1887.

To Anne Warren Weston

«East Hampton, Conn.» Has been in place, where she has sister, over a week; prospect of rousing it for cause of abolition is discouraging; recounts at lenght impressions received at visit in Fort Lee with Theodore and Angelina (Grimké) Weld; Angelina is very feeble; lecturing was too great a strain, and she worked too hard assisting on Slavery as it is. Sarah M. Grimké and Angelina (Grimké) Weld seem to hold that "any other unpopular cause, if espoused by abolitionists, will retard the progress of that cause." Theodore D. Weld is severe upon us, considering non-resistance pernicious in effect on work for emancipation. His attitude seems one of contempt mingled with pity. A.L.S. 4 p. 9 7/8 x 7 3/4 in.

«Glasgow» Explains why the box for the Boston fair cannot be sent until the beginning of December. Points out also that the "great depression in trade and the starving thousands with which we are surrounded" gives some people an excuse not to work for sufferers at a distance. Announces the enclosure of a small box from Esther Sturge, and of copies of the (society's) report. This had to be written cautiously "in speaking about the divisions"; however, "our opponents are perfectly silent." The writer, herself a widow, offers her sympathy to the addressee in her bereavement.

"We wish our Scotch friends would take a pattern from our English friends," who contribute liberally to "our box." Mentions especially Sarah Cogan, Walthamstow, Essex. Some of those in Scotland who are best qualified to work for a bazaar are prejudiced against the addressee's society "in consequence of the conduct of our time serving clergy." But even some of this class are giving way and have made beautiful contributions. Sends regards to John A. Collins.

«Edinburgh, Scotland» Concerns the box prepared for the Boston fair, which will leave with the steamer on December 4th. The hint about the tartans was welcome, for they want to know what articles would be the most salable. Miss (Elizabeth) Pease sent 5 pounds to be expended on the box and is also sending the picture of Cobden and Bright. Mrs. Wigham, late Jane Smeal of Glasgow, is taking a deep interest in the cause. The writer is enclosing a note from Miss Cogan, a liberal yearly contributor to the Edinburgh box. Miss Cogan requested an autograph of Dr. (William Ellery) Channing. The writer regrets (John A.) Collins's illness and praises his faithful stand under persecution. Henry C. Wright is expected in Edinburgh to address a total abstinence meeting, and is to stay with the writer.

[Edinburgh, Scotland] The writer was surprised and pleased that the aprons and dresses sent to the Anti-Slavery fair sold so well. "...it is quite a common thing here in all the millinery shops to see boys & girls' dresses ready for sale ..." Tells about an Anti-Slavery meeting in Glasgow occasioned by the excitement over the case of John L. Brown. Talks about the churches getting money from American slaveholders. Says that Dr. Burns of Paisley was on the platform at an Emancipation Society meeting at Glasgow last summer and is now collecting money from slaveholders. Condemns the Free Church. "The Emancipation Society of Edinburgh exists only in name, there is too much of the aristocrat prevailing among them for true Abolition ..." Says Mrs. Wigham is a very devoted co-worker. Wants H. C. Wright [illegible]eturn and stir them up. Is sorry that J. A. Collins ch[illegible]d his views.

«Edinburgh, Scotland» The Glasgow Female Anti-Slavery Society has sent a box to the addressee's bazaar. The writer explains about its contents, prices, etc. "We have a great battle to fight here now." Complains of the clergy. Refers to hostile reports against H. C. Wright and F. Douglass, as well as Garrison, Thompson, etc. Many have been aggrieved by Anna Richardson's collecting of money to buy F. Douglass's freedom, holding it to be a compromise of principles. A ladies' society, recently formed in Ulster, Ireland, advertises its willingness to take contributions for both "your society" and the Liberty Party. The writer objects to this. Has sent for some to come from the Six Nations and some from the Stockbridge Indians, by letters to Mr. Lydius and to Colonel Johnson.
